NEWS GATHERED FROM THE COUNTY

Interesting Notes Picked Up By Hustling Reporters in the Country Districts.

The town trustees of South San Francisco have had the old town jail, which had been declared both unsafe and unsanitary, repaired and renovated. The building is now in good condition and provided with sanitary equipments.

An unoccupied cottage on Aspen avenue, South San Francisco, was partially destroyed by fire last evening. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Saloon keepers of South San Francisco have been made the special victims of desperadoes during the past two weeks. While S. Farr was out of his place for a short time one morning enjoying his breakfast some one entered the place and robber the till of $10. The same evening of the sameday, a burglar entered Jorgensen's saloon by breaking a window and secured a bottle of whisky and about $2 in change from the cash drawer.

Antone Larsen, a resident of Vista Grande, died at the Lane hospital at San Francisco on Wednesday of last week. Deceased was 47 years of age and leaves a widow and two children. He was a prominent member of the local Camp of the Woodmen of the World and the Vista Grande fire department.

Judge John F. Davis, the newly appointed justice of the peace for the northend district of the county, tried his first case on Tuesday of last week. The defendants were a gang of hoboes, three of whom were given terms in the county jail.

Marine View is to have a new boat house. Work on the building has been started and when completeed it will be large enough to house several fishing boats and pleasure crafts.

J. F. Wienke is having plans made for a handsome cottage at Moss Beach. The new house will contain eight rooms and it is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $5000.

P. M. Schaible of Montara evidently believes in taking time by the forelock. He has come out with the announcement that he will be a candidate for supervisor at the next general election.

A number of improvements in anticipation of the summer rush are being made in the Occidental Hotel at Halfmoon Bay. A decorator recently from the east is engaged in painting and decorating the interior. The office decorations will be from scenes on the Ocean Shore Railroad, while the dining room will be given an arbor effect. The house is to be put in first class shape for the entertainment of its patrons.

The new building of the Halfmoon Bay High School is nearing completion. The building is a handsome and substantial one and will accommodate a large increase of students. At present there are but 18 pupils enrolled, but it is expected that the next term will see this number increased to at least 40.

Loren L. Roe, of Miramar, is preparing to build five new cottages at that place which will be completed early in the summer. Mr. Roe has just completed a large two story building at Miramar for the requirements of his soda factory.

Thomas Steele has commenced the erection of three business buildings at Marine View. One of these will be occupied as the office of the Steele Cement Pressed Brick Co., while another will be occupied as a plumbing shop. The third building will be of two stories, the lower floor for business purposes and the upper for apartments.

Robert L. Shelton, a former business man of San Francisco, has purchased of W. A. Morrison, the business of the Moss Beach Mercantile Company.

The most exclusive military organization in the state has been formed by Burlingame and San Mateo, under the designation of Company 11 Coast Artillery, National Guard. The company held its first drill Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple, San Mateo. The commissioned officers are: H. N. Royden, captain; Feldon Waggoner, first lieutenant; Norris K. Davis, second lieutenant. Royden is a West Point man and is a retired captain of the United States army. Both Waggoner and Davis have seen active service as officers. The company's second lieutenant is a city trustee of the "Municipality of Millionaires."

Home From the Tropics.

William T. Davis, who has been absent for the past three and a half years in Porto Rico, arrived home last Saturday on a visit to his mother and sisters. While on the island Mr. Davis was a U. S. employe in the government printing office in the city of San Juan, having charge of the linotype machines and printing presses. The climate of that country which partakes of the character of spring is unsuited to one who is used to the climatic variations of this country and Davis found it impossible to fit himself to it. He resigned to get a vacation. San Juan is a city 400 years old and was founded by Ponce de Leon, the ancient navigator who was looking about the new world for the fabled fountain of youth. His castle is intact in the old city. The population of San Juan is about 30,000 of which 300 are white.

ONE ON SQUIRE HAWKINS

"I guess I'll have to wait a long time for that new house you have been talking about building," remarked his good wife to Squire Hawkins glancing at him reflectively over her glasses. "You said when material was cheapened by a reduction in freight rates you would build."

"Well, what of it?" retorted the Squire petulantly. "What of it? Everything of it. I don't believe freight rates have anything to do with it. In fact, if you think they are going to reduce the rates you better buy now or prices may be higher."

"Nonsense. You are talking nonsense. The idea of saying that a reduction in freight rates would be followed by an increase in prices to the consumer! Who ever heard of such a thing? Cut the rates and you will cut the cost. That is what Jake Smith says and he knows a thing or two, I guess."

"I know, you have said that before, but don't be so sure about it. I am reading how your theory worked out over in Oklahoma. The railroad commission there made a big cut in coal rates, affecting seventeen towns. In eleven of the towns the coal dealers made no reduction in the price of coal, but took all the profits; in three of the towns they reduced the price, but not as much as the rates were reduced, while in the three remaining towns they actually increased the price 50 cents a ton. Here is the paper, take it and read it for yourself."

Squire Hawkins, among other things, enjoyed the distinction of being the neighborhood philosopher—one who is accredited with knowing a little about everything, but as a matter of fact not much about anything—and he reached for the paper, still affecting confidence in the rectitude of his theory. It was a report of the evidence offered at a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Corporation Commission of Oklahoma had reduced coal rates from the McAllester fields to the following towns and this was the result:

	OLD FRT. RATE	NEW FRT. RATE	OLD MARKET PRICE	NEW MARKET PRICE
Blackwell	$2.65	$1.60	$7.00	$7.00
Alva	3.25	1.75	8.50	8.50
Woodward	3.60	1.90	No reduction.
Waynoka	3.25	1.90	No reduction.
Gage	3.70	1.90	Inc. 50c a ton.
Medford	2.45	1.60	No reduction.
Guthrie	1.75	1.20	Inc. 50c a ton.
Oklahoma City	2.15	1.00	Dec. $1.00 a ton.
Shawnee	2.10	.82	No reduction.
Cushing	2.10	1.10	No reduction.
Ponca City	2.55	1.55	No reduction.
Perry	2.35	1.35	Dec. 50c a ton.
Ardmore	2.10	1.05	No reduction.
Purcell	2.75	1.20	Dec. 25c a ton.
Lindsay	2.10	1.25	No reduction.
Pawnee	2.35	1.30	Inc. 50c a ton.
Stillwater	2.25	1.25	No reduction.

Hawkins had many times silenced his wife in debate by affecting superior wisdom. But he felt the noose of her logic tightening around his ideas this time. Here were the figures, he could not dispute them, for he himself had often said that figures cannot lie. He ran his fingers through his hair again and again, glancing alternately, in the meantime, at his wife and then at the figures.

"I'll be hanged!" he said, laying the paper down and drawing a long breath. "These dealers have been telling me all along, when I complained about high prices, that the only way out is a reduction in freight rates. I thought it was true. It appeared reasonable, at any rate. But the proof of the pudding is in the eating. The Oklahoma coal rates were greatly reduced and the dealers not only grabbed nearly every cent of the benefit but some of them had the nerve to increase the price. I guess after all the real cause of high prices, is not freight rates, but high profits of the dealers. I'm going right over to show this to Smith and if he is trying to work the same game as the Oklahoma coal sharks, I'll at least let him know that I'm not looking through wool any longer."

"But stop a minute," interposed his good wife. "While you were reading about coal prices in Oklahoma I was reading the market reports. You know we have a large number of hogs and cattle out on the farm. I see by the market reports that they are worth about twice as much now as they were a few years ago. Don't you think this may have something to do with the high cost of living? And there is butter, and eggs, and—well, everything we produce on the farm is selling for much more.

"Yes; and by the way I am just beginning to see through it. We are getting about twice what we used to for our products and the dealer is getting profits in proportion and between us both we are reaching pretty deeply into the pockets of the consumer. As producers, however, I don't think we are getting relatively too much when we sell a hog in bulk at $8.50 a hundred and see him sold back by the pound by the dealer at $25.00 per hundred. Our profits look mighty small compared with the dealer's profits.

"Then this high cost of living puzzle or problem, call it what you like, is really one of profits and not railroad rates after all, is it not?"

"I'll be switched if it don't look that way."

"Well, it occurs to me, Squire Hawkins, that your excuse for not building a new home and getting me out of this old dungeon is a pretty lame one, more especially since high prices for farm products have in the last few years brought us enough profits to pay for a fine new home and yet leave a surplus equal to a fair profit on everything we have produced and sold. Now instead of going over to Jake Smith's to whittle up dry-goods boxes and talk on railroad rates, a subject neither one of you appears to know anything about, just go over to the lumber yard and place your order for material for a new house and tell them you want the best and plenty of it. With hogs worth $25.00 and steers $80.00, these pine floors feel pretty rough on my feet. And while you are about it, drop into the garage and invest in an auto. Horses, even though they are thoroughbreds, no longer comport with the sense of dignity of an agricultural plutocrat."

THE TENANT'S TOAST.

It Carried Off the Prize at Lord Panmure's Dinner.

The following story gives a good idea of the drinking style in England early in the last century. This was what the men of that day took for humor:

Two young English noblemen were paying a visit to Lord Panmure at Brechin castle. One day he wrote a letter to Panlathie, a tenant of his, to come and dine with him, and at the same time he ordered him to bring a sum of money.

Panlathie was aware, when he received the order that something was to be done and went prepared.

After dinner Lord Panmure gave the first toast, which was, "All hats in the fire or £20 on the table." Four hats were immediately in the fire.

One of the English noblemen gave the next toast, "All coats in the fire or £50 on the table." Four coats were committed to the flames.

The other English nobleman gave the next toast, "All boots in the fire or £100 pounds on the table." The whole of the boots were committed to the flames.

Panlathie's toast came next, which was, "Two fore teeth in the fire or £200 on the table," and Panlathie pulled his teeth out and threw them into the fire.

The English noblemen looked amazed. They didn't know he had false teeth, and Panlathie went home without hat, coat or boots, but with £600 in his pocket. Lord Panmure thought much of his tenant after that.—Exchange.

THE DEAD SEA.

Old Popular Beliefs About It That Are Not Founded on Fact.

The Dead sea is a remarkable lake, forty-six miles long and from five to nine miles wide, situated in the southeast of Palestine and known from the time of Jerome (340-420 A. D.) as the "Dead" sea, because no fish of any kind have ever been found in its waters. Its surface, which is lower than that of any other body of water known, is 1,292 feet below the level of the Mediterranean. At its northern end it has a depth of about 1,300 feet, while the water at the southern extremity is only from three to twelve feet deep.

The Dead sea is fed by the Jordan from the north, but has no outlet, the water being apparently carried off by evaporation. The water of the Dead sea contains a large amount of the salts of magnesia and soda; as a consequence its specific gravity is high, and bathers float in it with ease.

The popular notions that the Dead sea exhales noxious vapors and that birds cannot fly over its surface and remain unharmed are not founded on fact.

According to tradition, Sodom and Gomorrah, "the cities of the plain," stood on the site now occupied by the Dead sea. This view, however, is no longer entertained, and it is now considered certain that the Dead sea existed in its present state during the days of Abraham and even much earlier.—New York American.

"Well," growled the cranky boarder, "it seems impossible to get it out of board."—Philadelphia Press.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Just now, while you are thinking about that new spring outfit, wouldn't it be a good time to stir up a little of that local pride we are so ready to talk about. Wouldn't it be a good idea to remember that if our city is to prosper it must have our support, and that this cant be given by going away from home for what you want.

A SPLENDID SUGGESTION.

The suggestion of Mayor Merrill that improvement clubs should be formed in various sections of the city, whose special object should be the care of the streets of each particular section, is one that should not be lost sight of. By this means much of good for the general welfare of the city canbe accomplished. Through organizations of the character suggested a public sentiment can easily be awakened which will lead to a very decided improvement in the appearance of the residence sections of the city, and this at a very trifling expense to the individual.

The old saying of "what is every body's business is no abody's business" is especially true in the matter of civic betterment. It is easily within the power of the trustees to order the improvement of the streets and to see that they are put in good condition in the first instance. This they are now doing and it is hoped the good work will be continued. But if these streets are to continue to present an attractive appearance something more than the installation of a good pavement is required. They must be kept clear from rubbish and unsightly weeds, both of which will accumulate if given the slightest opportunity. This result is inevitable unless the trustees have the cooperation of the individual property owner.

Organization is unquestionably the proper method for the combat of these undesirable evils. And the organization can come none too soon. This is the season of the year when attention of the character suggested is most required, and now is the one time in the history of the city when for the best good of all the work is needed. With a little combined effort the streets in the residence district can be kept in presentable and attractive appearance at a trifling cost to the individual, either in time or money.

From Old Ireland.

The following letter has been received during the week by J. F. Johnston from Patrick Foley who is traveling in Ireland:

"I have had a very pleasant time in Ireland, the winter being extremely mild, scarcely any rain and no frost. I have been all through the island and every where I have found happiness and contentment among the people. They know how to enjoy life. They don't get up until 9 o'clock, breakfast at 10 and dine at 2:30. My visit has been doubly interesting by the fact that both my brothers are wealthy and champion golf players and were able to show me all the sights. My traveling with them costs me nothing. I am going to London today with one of them and expect to have a good time. He is to play in an international golf match. I will be lonesome in leaving here, wish I could stay all summer. I have to go home. You will be surprised to know I am 20 pounds heavier than when I left Redwood City. I never felt better, plenty of walking and swimming works up a good appetite. Spring has opened with its blossoms, pouring forth its fragrance everywhere and enthusing new life into all nature."

Sincerely yours
P. J. FOLEY. L

Reviewing Old Stories

The family skeleton of Dr. W. A. Gamble, who practiced here 29 years ago, that has been locked in the closet for over thirty years is being pretty well aired in the superior court of Alameda county. He is seeking to set aside the will of his late wife, who left all her property to her son by a former husband. He is airing the family secrets and they are making interesting reading to those who like that class of literature. Dr. Gamble became involved in an affair while here that caused him to leave town. On the occasion of a Fourth of July celebration in town he failed to decorate his office and some one tacked up a few flags on the building. When the medico saw them he at once pulled them down and stamped on Old Glory. The people became much excited and threatened to run him out of town. He was burned and hung in effigy and things became so disagreeable for him that he departed for Alameda county where he has since practiced his profession.

Brooks' Land Distributed

The $100,000 estate of the late Patrick Brooks, a wealthy farmer of the First township who was killed near Colma several years ago, was distributed Monday, when Judge Buck handed down a final decree of partition. The property consists chiefly of a 500 acre ranch in the First township, which was distributed as follows: Delia F. Spellman, 53.95 acres; Michael Whelan, 59 acres; H. D. Irwin, 16.42 acres; Mary A. Forsythe, 94.91 acres, and Sarah A. 4Whelan, 271.7 acres. Joseph Fassler, W. E. Moody and R. S. Thornton were the referees in partition.

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Sunday, July 19th, 1879, was a red letter day among the members of the parish at St. Peter's Episcopal church, the occasion being made memorable by a visit from Bishop Kip, bishop of the diocse who remained in this city and Menlo Park, the latter then a portion of this parish, during all of Sunday and Monday. The principal service was held at the church on Sunday morning, this service being participated in by Rev. A. L. Brewer of San Mateo and Rev. Charles N. Spaulding, the rector-elect of the parish. At both the morning and evening services Bishop Kip preached strong sermons to large congregations, in the morning sermon congratulated the congregation upon the bright prospects of the oparish, which had seemingly taken upon itself new life. On Saturday evening previous to the Sunday services the Bishop held a reception to his friends and members of the parish at the residence of James Crowe, then as now, the senior worden of the parish, which was attended by a large number of the leading citizens of the town. On the following Monday the Bishop also held a reception at the home of Mrs. Selby at Menlo Park in order that he might have an opportunity to meet the residents of that section who were members of the church.

About this time a mania developed among the athletically inclined of the state for long endurance walking contest and the spirit of pedestrianism soon seized upon the young men of Redwood City. The outcome of this spirit was first publicaly manifested in a 24-hour walking contest at Germania Hall under the direct management of young Horace Hawes. That this sport was a popular one is evidenced by the following list of entries for the contest: Joseph Feathers, Geo. Eikerenkotter, William Nichols, J. Rooney, W. H. Simmons, Mathew Wilson, Geo. Vassar, Antonio Genochio, P. B. Jamieson and James Combs, the latter a colored man and one of the servants of Mr. Hawes. Combs did not enter the contest until the last moment, although it was generally expected that he would be one of the leading racers, as he had achieved a considerable reputation as a long distnce pedestrian. The contest was won by George Eikerenkotter after nearly all of his opponents had wearied of the long tramp and one by one dropped out. The sport did not die out for some time and this first contest was followed by other and longer sustained walks.

Here are a couple of birth notices taken from the issue of the Times-and Gazette that may revive fond memories among some people yet residents of the county: "Born, in San Mateo, November 7, 1879, to the wife of William C. Alt, a son." "Born, in Redwood City, December 13, 1879, to Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Cook, a daughter.

On Saturday evening, December 27th, 1879, officers of Redwood City Lodge No. 168, then known as San Mateo Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, were installed as follows: G. W. Green, worshipful master; E. G. Irwinn, senior warden; G. W. Fox, treasurer; H. A. Schofield, secretary; D. G. Leary, senior deacon; J. I. Robinson, junior deacon; David Collie and Louis Jacobson, stewards; John Poole, tyler. After the installation the members of the lodge enjoyed a banquet at the Tremont House.

On the evening of January 7th, 1880, Halfmoon Bay suffered from a rather disastrous fire, resulting in the loss of several business buildings. The fire started in the blacksmith shop used by R. I. Knapp as a place for the manufacture of plows, and before it was discovered and assistance could be summoned the entire building was in flames and as a strong wind was blowing at the time it seemed certain that the greater part of the town was doomed. Fortunately a heavy rain began to fall and aided by the efforts of the neigbors who were fighting the fire, but no amount of effort could save to P. P. Quinlin building, which soon fell victim, and further spread was prevented by tearing down the neighboring fences and barns. The heavy loosers by the fire were P. P. Quinlan, R. I. Knapp and William Pringle, none of whom carried an insurance policy of any great value in proportion to their loss.

It was with the beginning of the year 1880 that the manufacure of leather was finally established as the leading permanent industry of Redwood City. For several years previous to this the town had been reognized as a natural location for his businetss and small attempts made at its establishment. Three tanneries had been built and for a time operated with some frequency, but it had seemed impossible for any firm to secure a permanent basis, and for some time previous to the close of the year 1879 none of these had been operated. With the opening of the year 1880 what had been known as the Wentworth Tannery passed into the hands of its present owners and the big business of S.H. Frank & Co. was established. The business was then placed under the management of S. H. Ross. Backed by an abundant capital and guided by, a complete knowledge of the business, the firm lost no time in preparing to put the manufacture of leather on a permanent basis in Redwood City. The work of the tannery as it then stood was immediately resumed, but no time was lost in preprepartions for the installation of needed improvements. The erecion of additional buildings was immediately started and orders placed with eastern manufacturers for modern machinery.

On the evening of January 15th, 1880, the officers of Hope Encampment No. 60, I. O. O. F., were publicly installed by district deputy Grand Patriarch W. A. Parkhurst of San Jose. A large number of the friends of the members witnessed the induction into office of the following patriarchs of the encampment: W. M. Hursell, chief patriarch; J. W. Glennan, high priest; A. A. Rankin, senior warden; William Hadley, junior warden; John Gosch, scribe; G. W. Fox, guide; George W. Green, G. Plump, George C. Ross, and J. H. Offerman, watches; S. F. Lurvey and J. Christ sentinels. After the installation those in attendance were invited to the Tremont House, where a banquet was served.

ORDINANCE NO. 104.

An ordinance amending an ordinance entitled, "Ordinance No. 102, An Ordinance regulating the establishment of Sanitariums or hospitals within the limits of the Town of Redwood City", passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City on the 20th day of February, 1911.

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City do ordain as follows, to-wit:

Section I. An ordinance of the Town of Redwood City entitled, 'Ordinance No. 102. An ordinance regulating the establishment of Sanitariums or Hospitals within the limits of the Town of Redwood City', passed and adopted by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City on the 20th day of February, 1911, is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be numbered IV¾ and to read as follows, to-wit:

Section IV¾. The word Sanitarium as in this ordinance used is defined as any place where inebriates or persons with nervous or contagious diseases are treated for hire. The word hospital as in this ordinance used is defined as any place where inebriates or persons with nervous or contagious diseases are treated for hire.

Section II. This ordinance shall be published once in the Times-Gazette, a weekly newspaper published and printed in said Town of Redwood City, and shall be in force from and after its passage.

Introduced this 6th day of March, 1911.

Passed and adopted as an ordinance of the Town of Redwood City by the Board of Trustees of said Town at a regular meeting of said Board held on the 20th day of March, 1911, by the following vote.

Ayes and in favor of the passage of said ordinance, Trustees, Becger, Brown, Hynding, Sampson, Merrill.

Noes and against the passage of said ordinance, Trustees, none.

Absent, Trustees, none.

GEO. A. MERRILL,
President of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Redwood City.

Attest. G. C. PLUMP.
Clerk of the Town of Redwood City.

I hereby approve the foregoing ordinance this 20th day of March, 1911.

SAN MATEO COUNTY BOOST CLUB FORMED

FIFTY PENINSULA CITIZENS MEET AND FORM PLANS FOR ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN.

Permanent Organization With Headquarters in San Francisco to Conduct Development Movement.

Fifty representative citizens of the county held a meeting in the city hall at San Mateo Tuesday and made tentative plans for a promotion organiztion to develop and advertise the entire peninsula.

Practically every man voiced sentiments in favor of a concerted movement to boost San Mateo county, both for residential purposes and as a location for manufactories.

Rev. W. A. Brewer, mayor of Hillsborough, presided as chairman and E. I. Woodman of South San Francisco was secretary.

A committee consisting of Geo. W. Lovie, S. D. Merk, Charles N. Kirkbride, Davenport Bromfield and Captain H. N. Royden, appointed to prepare plans for a development board, submitted its report. The committee recommended a permanent organization, with headquarters in San Francisco, and a promotion fund of $500 a month to be contributed by the city councils, civic organizations, companies and private individuals of San Mateo county.

Among those who expressed themselves in favor of a progressive campaign were: Eric Lange, mayor of Burlingame; William Brown, San Mateo county supervisor; Daniel McSweeney, mayor of South San Francisco; D. R. Stafford, president of the Redwood City board of trade; W. J. Martin of South San Francisco; Charles M. Morse, mayor of San Mateo, and J. M. Custer of San Bruno.

Upon the invitation of Mayor Eric Lange of Burlingame it was decided to hold the next meeting of the boosters in the Burlingame town hall Saturday afternoon, April 8th.

Following are the delegates who attended the meeting:.

South San Francisco—F. A. Cunningham, W. H. Cofmberry, D. McSweeney, E. I. Woodman and W. J. Martin. San Bruno—A. A. La Roux, J. M. Custer and A. A. Green. Millbrae—F. H. Green. Burlingame—Eric Lange and Sam D. Merk. San Mateo—Charles M. Morse, Captain H. N. Royden, Charles N. Kirkbride, Paul Pickney, J. J. O'Brien, O. P. Hicks, W. H. Brown, Harry Hatch, D. Bromfield, John H. Coleman, F. W. Metzgar and G. W. Loveland. Redwood City—H. C. Tuchsen, Geo. W. Lovie and D. R. Stafford. Hillsborough—Rev. W. A. Brewer.

FOUR TRACKS NEEDED TO HANDLE TRAFFIC.

The prospects of a four-track system down the peninsula as far as this city are growing daily. It is admitted by members of the passenger department of the Southern Pacific that the proposed extra tracks will afford considerable relief in handling the traffic of that section. At the present time it is contemplated to construct the new tracks only as far as this city.

The number of persons who do business in San Francisco and who make their homes down the peninsula is increasing almost monthly, and the traffic at certain hours of the day taxes to the utmost the present equipment of the Southern Pacific.

"There is no question as to the desirability of the additional tracks" said Charles S. Fee, general passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific. "So far there is nothing absolutely definite in the plan, but the officials of the road realize that before very long some such step must be taken."

Large Salt Shipments

V. V. Greco, the resident manager of the West Shore Salt Company, states that within the past few weeks fully 6000 tons of salt have been shipped from the beds to San Francisco to be refined, and in all 9000 tons will be disposed of in the metropolis. The owners of the beds are still considering the proposition to erect a refinery here which project was temporarily abandond when the building of the railroad to the marsh was stopped by the Spring Valley Company at its right of way.

Woman Saves Her Home.

Mrs. J. E. Ralston's presence of mind saved her pretty home in Dingee Park from burning last Sunday night. In some way a blaze started in the clothes closet and after giving the alarm Mrs. Ralston procured a garden hose and succeeded in putting the fire out before the department arrived. Her loss was fully adjusted by the Westchester Insurance Company of which Ted Thompson is agent.

Sequoia and San Jose Debate.

On Saturday evening, April 1st, Sequoia and the San Jose high school will meet in their league debate of the second series at the high school assembly hall at 7 o'clock. The question will be: "Resolved—That labor unions are justified in insisting through the use of all lawful means at their disposal, in the closed shop."

The latest novelties in men's shirts and underwear, for early spring wear, now in. Inspection invited. Marcus' department store.

IMITATION COWBOYS MAKE IT LIVELY FOR BELMONT

Since the days of the famous picnics of long ago Belmont has not had such an excitment as that of last Sunday afternoon. The stir was caused by P. Waldoff and Jas. P. Noriel, two Redwood City residents who mounted on horses and rigged out as cowboys were making things lively for the quiet little village. Noriel and Waldoff, the former an employe at the tannery and the latter a hostler at the Pioneer stables, were out for a wild afternoon and when they reached Belmont they were as drunk as the real wild and woolly article of the west. They made several attempts to ride into Caldwell's hotel but were ordered off by the proprietor. A gentleman whose name could not be learned was struck on the head with a beer bottle by one of the pair and laid out. Bob Bowie came along with his automobile in which were Joseph Duglos and wife and children of San Mateo and Waldroff, still thirsting for blood, threw a rock into the machine, hitting Duglos on the head and cutting him severely. Carl Beeger and wife saw the disturbance and making a record run to town in their automobile, picked up Officer Coleman and hurried back to Belmont with him. Coleman arrived not a moment too soon. Waldoff had escaped, but an angry crowd had gathered and there were threats of lynching Noriel. He was taken in charge by Coleman and when the officer was on his way to town he met the other imitation cowboy riding wildly in the direction of Belmont. With the aid of several automobile parties Woldoff was captured and clubbed into submission and finally landed in jail.

Tuesday the two culprits were brought into Justice Lampkin's court and their bail fixed at $1000 for Woldoff and $500 for Noriel. They will have to face several charges of assault and disorderly conduct.

Death of an Old Printer

Thomas J. Andrus, well known as a printer in this city twenty or more years ago, died in San Francisco recently. Andrus was an early comer to California and had an eventful career. He was a bright newspaper man and one of the most skillful compositors of his time. Like many of his craft he failed to provide for that "rainy day" that comes in the latter part of life and was obliged to find shelter from the cold unsympathetic world in the San Francisco almshouse. Here he was found by Fremont Older, the Bulletin editor, who knew Andrus in his better days, and was given a comfortable home. For five years Andrus lived on the generosity of his friend and when death at last claimed him he was given a decent burial by Mr. Older. Such examples of kindness are not often seen in these days of selfishness.

Antone Genochio has purchased a lot at Hillcrest in the First township and is having a building erected in which his son-in-law, E. Pescaro, will conduct a drygoods store. The building and lot will cost $10,000.

To Please the Palate

is our aim in serving meat—to retain the fine flavor Nature bestows, not to let it go to waste, as some meatshops do. With prolonging this true tale, it may be set down for a fact that here is to be found a first-class place to purchase beef, mutton, lamb, ham, poultry and game, to give your table good credit with household and guest.

TO OUR PATRONS AND AGENTS:

We take pleasure in advising you of the dates of sale for the Summer Excursions to the Eas; this year, and also the rates to a few of the principal points.

As travel to the East will be very heavy this summer, we strongly recommend that arrangements for tickets and reservations for sleepers be made as early as possible to insure good space in the cars.

Further information about rates will be gladly given at any of our offices, or a letter addressed to any of our agents will bring this information to you. Next Week Will Surely Be

PIANO = WEEK

IN REDWOOD CITY

The Introductory sales we are now holding in Redwood City is causing the biggest stir the City has seen in many a month. For, in order to thoughly acquaint the people of Redwood and San Mateo County with the House of Eilers and the many lines of celebrated pianos we handle we are offering the

Finest of Pianos and Player Pianos

At Greatly Reduced Prices

In a number of cases we have cut our regular prices from one-third to one-half. These reductions apply not only to the moderate priced instruments but to the finest in our stock, comprising such makes as the Chickering, Sohmer, Kimball, Hallet & Davis, Hazelton, Decker, and the most famous of player pianos, the Autopiano.

At $300. you can buy a piano which you would consider a bargain at $375. Pianos that are considered excellent values at $350. we have marked $275. And at $350. you can buy a famous piano sold everywhere at $400. and so on all through our lines.

But Low Prices Are Not All

Aside from the bargain prices we offer still another incentive for you to buy your piano from Eilers Music House. We are offering terms so liberal that no family no matter how modest their income, need be without music in their homes.

A small cash payment will secure your piano or player piano, and the balance you can pay in convenient installments, weekly, monthly, or quarterly.

Those holding checks received in our recent contest, will not only secure the benefit of the special reduced prices we are now quoting, but can also use their checks as part of their first payment on any new piano or player piano in our stock.

AUTOPIANO RECITALS

The public is cordially invited to attend the Autopiano recitals held every afternoon and evening at this store.

Private demonstrations arranged to suit your convenience at any time.

Hornblower Will Filed

The will of Frederick A. Hornblower, who many years ago was a police judge in San Francisco has been filed for probate. He left an estate worth about $4,500, willing it entirely to his wife, Kate I. Hornblower. There are two sons, Frederick A. Hornblower, aged 18, and Williiam B. Hornblower, 17.

"I have not forgotten my two sons," reads the will, "but do not will them anything, for the reason that their mother is their natural guardian and her love for them is such that she will care for them out of what little property I may own at my death."

Hornblower died February 23, 1911, and was in his ninety-fourth year. Mrs. Kate I. Hornblower, who is 41 years old, was his second wife.

Out on Probation.

Charles Holland, who robbed a saloon keeper of Hillcrest of $240 on February 7th, was discharged on probation by Judge Buck yesterday. He was told by the court that if he drank any liquor or visited a saloon during the next six months he would be at once sent to San Quentin. Holland after the robbery came to San Mateo and was about to buy a ticket to Chicago when he was arrested by Constable Sheehan. Holland is about 26 years of age, has a wife and three small children and is a brick mason by trade. He is in charge of his brother, P. H. Holland, of San Francisco and is to report regularly to the probation officers. Holland's downfall is due to strong drink.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Redwood City Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured.

Read what a Redwood City citizen says:

Fred Hassler, 101 Stambaugh St., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often resulted seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxions to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at P. A. Ryan's Drug Store, and their use completely removed the spmptoms of my trouble. In July, 1907, I publicly testified in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. During the past two years, I have been free from kidney complaint. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Daan's Kidney Pills."

Assessor's Instructions

To Owners of Real Estate and Personal Property.

The law requires each and every person who owns any class of property to annually, during the months of March, April or May, file a statement with the Assessor or his deputy in the county where his property is located. You should give a statement of all property owned by you on the first Monday in March at 12 o'clock m.

If you hold mortgages against others send in a mortgage statement showing amount due on each mortgage on the first Monday in March ot 12 o'clock m.

No change can be made by the Assessor after he turns over his books to the Board of Supervisors on the first Monday in July. The Board then sets as a Board of Equalization during the month of July.

Remember, if you fail to give in your assessment you fail to comply with the law and may cause yourself, the Assessor and Tax Collector much trouble, and very likely cause yourself expense.

It is much more satisfactory to the Assessor, as well as to yourself, to have your assessment correct when you go to pay your taxes.
